Intercultural competence for a successful cooperation

We live in a globalized world where people from different cultural backgrounds meet and work together. Different countries, different behaviour and habits: International projects require employees who are good at dealing with various cultures. The perception of contractual basics, leadership roles or even timings can be very different. For a successful cooperation it is important to understand, respect and deal with the cultural differences. In this workshop you will learn how to act adequate and self-confident in intercultural situations, how to avoid misunderstandings and how to communicate and work together successfully.
